

LAW OF CAUSE AND EFFECT - Every law has a cause and effect principle. There are no exceptions in life. For example: if you work in a farm, you harvest crop. If you harvest tomatoes, you will get tomatoes in the end of the day; not beans or apples. The cause is the cultivation; the effect is the harvest. If we seed negative thoughts in our mind, this is what will happen: negative results.

Therefore, if we seed positive thoughts, we will harvest positive results. In other words, if you do or say something, this is the cause. In this case, you can then wait for the consequences or the effect. This could be good or bad, depending on the cause.
